

EVERGREEN MEMBERSHIP FAQ's

How does the Evergreen deposit club membership differ from traditional dues based membership?

In lieu of annual dues, an Evergreen deposit member is extended club member privileges with an initial member account deposit. The pre-paid member account is then used toward member activities/purchases at the club, including golf.

Why would a golfer select deposit based club membership opposed to an annual dues paying membership?

Many golfers want a club member experience but can't get out to play the number of annual rounds needed to justify fixed rate dues. A good rule of thumb is that it takes more than 50 rounds a season at a golfer's home club to justify fixed rate dues.
